

Jane Minter, Head of Programmes

Jane is Head of Programmes (p/t) at Care & Repair England. She coordinates the Older People's National Housing Champions Network and contributes to all of Care & Repair England's work projects, particularly Silverlinks. She leads on work for older people with long term health conditions and provides intelligence on social care issues ensuring that housing is not ignored in health and care policy and practice. Previously she was Head of Intelligence and External Affairs at Housing 21, has been seconded to the Department of Health promoting the role of housing in social care and health and has worked for Housing Associations Charitable Trust, the National Housing Federation and Age Concern England (now Age UK) in the field of older people's housing. Jane has been on the Board of the Elderly Accommodation Counsel and a member of the UK Inquiry into Mental Health in Later Life led by Age UK. She is currently a Board member of Ability Housing which provides housing and support services that enable people to live more independent lives.
